

For you the resident: Know Your Legal Rights about Medications

- YOU have the right to be informed about your medications enough to consent to take them, or decline them.
- YOU have the right to approve your individualized plan of care.
- YOU have the right to appeal a discharge, transfer or “move-out” decision.
- YOU may complain and the facility must respond promptly to your concerns without retaliation.

You have the right to quality care and to live at your highest functional abilities.
